

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

The new edition of the HOMŒOPATHIC MEDICAL DIRECTORY now presented to the Profession, requires few prefatory remarks ; the contents of the volume speak for themselves. The demand for a new edition proves that the work has been found useful.

The Names and Qualifications have been copied exactly from the returns received ; so that each individual is responsible for the correctness of the Medical and Literary Distinctions he assumes. The Editor requested each person to give the name of the University, College, or Licensing body from which, and the date at which, the Title claimed was obtained. Those who have not complied with this request, have been repeatedly applied to in vain, to obtain the desired information.

The returns from America have arrived too late to be added to this edition. This is the less to be regretted, as Dr. Jackson, of Roxburgh, Massachusetts, is engaged in preparing a complete American Homœopathic Directory.

The Continental List has been much curtailed ; the places chiefly visited by English Tourists have alone been given, and a few medical men named in each place.

Lastly, the Editor begs to offer his best thanks to his correspondents for the kind assistance they have afforded him.

All communications, respecting this or future editions of the work, to be addressed either to the EDITOR, or to .
Mr. TURNER, 41, Piccadilly, Manchester.

The Hospital is open daily, (Tuesday excepted) at three o'clock, for the reception of OUT-PATIENTS. IN-PATIENTS admitted every Tuesday at three o'clock.

Obstetric Cases every Tuesday.

The City Branch for OUT-PATIENTS, 58, Aldersgate Street, is open every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at one o'clock; there is also a Branch Dispensary of this Hospital at Leamington, (see Provincial Dispensaries). During the winter season, Lectures will be delivered ON MATERIA MEDICA, by Dr. Quin; ON CLINICAL MEDICINE, by Dr. Hamilton and Dr. Rutherford Russell; ON CLINICAL SURGERY, by Mr. Yeldham; and on the Homœopathic Treatment of some Diseases peculiar to Women, by Mr. Leadam.

CASES TO 31ST MARCH, 1854.

In-Patients.....	761
Cured .....	538
Died.....	26
Out-Patients .....	10,433
Cured .....	4394
Died.....	25

Total Cases (all treated gratuitously) at this Hospital since its opening four years ago, are 11,290. It is supported at an average annual expense of £790. The Board of Management have a Reserve Fund of £5,400 for the purpose of building a new and suitable Hospital.

HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL,

39, BLOOMSBURY SQUARE.

Instituted on the 16th October, 1850.

This Hospital was closed on the 27th of May last; that its closure is not to be attributed to the want of patients, will be obvious from the following figures, comprising the total number of patients treated during the three years and a half of its existence.

In-Patients .....	752
Cured .....	430
Died.....	30
Out-Patients.. .....	12,000
Cured .....	4000
Died.....	40

The numbers were increasing at the date of its closure, but the enormous expense, upwards of £2,400 annually, attending the treatment of such a large number of sick persons, falling as it did entirely on the resources of private charity, was found to be more than the Governors could meet; and, therefore, rather than the Hospital should be inefficient, or become involved in debt, they chose in the meantime to shut it up entirely.

ASSOCIATION FOR THE PROTECTION OF HOMŒOPATHIC PRACTITIONERS & STUDENTS.

This Association was founded at a Congress of Homœopathic Practitioners, held in London, on the 23rd and 24th July, 1851. Its object was to protect the interests of Homœopathists against attacks from whatever quarter they might proceed. The special case that led to its institution, was the unjust rejection of Mr. Pope by the Medical Faculty of the University of Edinburgh. The objects accomplished by the Association are principally these. It has secured a qualification for the rejected candidates. It has got up and presented a petition to the Patrons of the University of Edinburgh, numerous and influentially signed, representing the injustice of Mr. Pope's rejection on account of his Homœopathic belief. It has published a volume entitled "Homœopathy in 1851," edited by Dr. Russell.

As nothing has recently occurred to call for the interference of the Association, it remains in abeyance; retaining, however, its original institution and committee, ready to act should any occasion arise for its services.

THE BRITISH INSTITUTE OF HOMŒOPATHY.

Established, December, 1853.

Chairman—Charles Luther, Esq., M.D.

Treasurer—David Wilson, Esq., M.R.C.S.

Secretary—William V. Drury, Esq., M.D., 3, Crescent, Camden Road, Regent's Park, London.

OBJECTS OF THE INSTITUTE.

1. To protect the public, by the most strenuous efforts, against unqualified and incompetent practitioners, and to secure to the public the services of men of sound information.
2. To uphold and disseminate in their purity, the clear, strict and unrefuted principles and rules, of the Organon of Hahnemann; to the utter exclusion of loose unscientific practice.
3. To protect the external interests of homœopathy, against all direct or indirect aggression.

In reference to the attainment of the proposed objects of the Institute by literary means, the following seem to be the best calculated to ensure success:—

1. One or two tracts written as simply and intelligibly as possible, to infuse correct notions on the principles of homœopathy, and at the same to point out the errors of allopathy.
2. Instructions for students in the correct study and practice of homœopathy
3. Instructions for the non-professional public on emergencies.
4. A weekly Journal, whenever the Institute shall deem the publication of such to be called for, the objects of which shall be to explain the true principles of homœopathy; to impart that amount of information on its practice which can be safely and usefully resorted to on emergencies; the inculcation of simple and sound principles on hygiene and the physical and general education of children ; and the narration of current events relating to the subjects mentioned.

5. A semi-monthly or monthly journal, of an exclusively professional character. In this latter publication the views and principles of the Institute will be upheld ; the British homœopathic practitioner will be made acquainted with everything worth knowing which appears in the periodical and general homœopathic literature of Germany, France, Italy, Spain, America, and other countries ; and not less with the great treasures of homœopathic literature in its best days, especially those of the twenty-three volumes of Stapp's Archiv, and other valuable German and French publications. This journal will have distinguished correspondents in different countries, who are to be honorary members of the Institute. It ought also to take especial care of British homœopathic literature, by a fair and impartial, but most rigorous criticism, not only of new publications, but also of what has hitherto been offered to the student for instruction and guidance.

HOMŒOPATHY IN AMERICA.

1855.

---

The editor has been unable to procure a complete list of the Homœopathic Practitioners in the United States; Dr. Jackson, of Roxburgh, Massachusetts, is preparing an American Homœopathic Medical Directory. In the absence of more detailed information, it may be interesting to state that in the United States there are upwards of three thousand duly qualified Homœopathic medical men engaged in practice. There are two legally established Homœopathic Medical Colleges, annually sending forth a band of well educated graduates; a third College for the State of New York is about to be opened. There are three Public Hospitals, and a very large number of Dispensaries; thirty Homœopathic Associations and Societies, and seven quarterly and monthly Homœopathic Journals.

CONTINENTAL HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITALS.

GUMPENDORF HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, VIENNA.

Physicians—Dr. Flieschmann, Dr. Wrumb.
 Assistant Physician—Dr. Caspar.

This Institution was formerly called the "Hospital of the Sisters of Charity," and is well known, both in Britain and on the Continent, as an object of interest, as well as of abuse. The Hospital was opened in 1832, for the reception of Cholera patients; from which period till January, 1835, a half Homœopathic half Allopathic system of treatment was pursued. In 1835, Dr. Flieschman was appointed Hospital Physician; and having resolved fairly to try the strength of Homœopathy, he got rid of all Allopathic drugs, and treated every case of disease that presented itself solely Homœopathically. The success of Dr. Flieschmann's experiments are well known.

The Hospital of the Sisters of Charity at Vienna has been largely frequented by Medical men from all parts of Europe, who are anxious to see Homœopathic practice; and certainly, Homœopathy is much indebted for its present position in the world to the ability and zeal of the physicians, and to the care and kindness of the nurses of this Hospital. Through the interest of Dr. Flieschman, and on account of the success attending the Homœopathic treatment of disease in this Hospital, the Emperor of Austria was induced to rescind the statute which forbade the practice of Homœopathy in the Austrian dominions, and also to establish an Institution in Vienna for the teaching of Homœopathy, under the protection of the Government, and with Dr. Wrumb at its head as Principal.

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, LEOPOLD FAUBOURG, VIENNA.

This Hospital contains twenty-four beds, is attended by an efficient staff of Physicians, and sick nurses by the Sisters of Charity.

---

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, LINZ, UPPER AUSTRIA.

Physician—Dr. Reiss.

House Surgeon—Dr. Pleninger.

As the Government of Austria requires a correct monthly return of the number of patients admitted to any Hospital within its jurisdiction, together with the nature of the disease laboured under, and the results of treatment, the utmost reliance may be placed on the published medical statistics of that country; and, therefore, the charge "manufacturing" which is frequently brought against Homœopathic statistics is altogether groundless, so far as Austria is concerned. The Hospital at Linz was opened for the reception of diseased persons on the 1st of June, 1842. It contains thirty beds; the patients are nursed by the Sisters of Charity, to which order the building belongs; and in point of cleanliness and comfort, it is in no way inferior to the most favoured hospital in Britain.

KREMSIER HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL.

Physician—Dr. Schweitzer.

This Hospital was opened on the 12th October, 1845.

---

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, NECHANITZ.

Physician—Dr. Feltl.

This Hospital was founded in 1846, by the Countess Theresa Von Harrach. The mortality in this Hospital during the years 1846-7-8 was 2-48 per cent., and the cost of each patient in the Institution was, on an average, 6 florins, 15 krewners, (18s.)

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, GYONGYOS.

Physician—Dr. Horner.

The following are the results of cases treated in this Hospital from 1st July, 1846, to 30th June, 1847:—

Admitted.	Cured.	Relieved.	Uncured.	Died.	Remaining.
155	132	8	2	13	6

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, TURIN.

This Hospital was founded by the efforts of the Canon of the Cathedral, Abbé Cottolengo, where all the patients are treated Homœopathically under the immediate superintendence of Dr. Demichelis.

L'HOSPICE DE LA PROVIDENCE, NICE.

This is an Institution of great interest, being solely devoted to the restoration and protection of neglected and diseased Orphan Children. From 1815 to 1835, the Hospital was under Allopathic treatment, from 1835 it has been under Homœopathic; the mortality under the former system was very great; under the latter the health of the children has been better maintained, and the number of deaths greatly reduced.

HOMŒOPATHY IN THE GENERAL HOSPITAL, AT MADRID.

For a number of years Homœopathy has been practised in this Hospital with so much success, that the Queen has, by royal mandate, sanctioned the establishment of the Chairs for the teaching of Homœopathy: one for Clinical, the other for Theoretical Lectures. Drs. Rio and Nunez, Professors.

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, MOSCOW.

Physician—Dr. Schweikert.

This Hospital was opened for the Homœopathic treatment of disease, in presence of the Governor-General, Prince Setscherbatoff, and other persons of rank, on the 16th of December, 1845. It is supported by voluntary contributions. No report of the success of the undertaking has yet reached us.

MISKOLTZ HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL.

Physician—Dr. Stern.

The local authorities of Miskoltz, aware of the benefits of Homœopathy, granted Dr. Stern permission (in 1846) to open an Hospital, and voted a yearly donation to assist in supporting it, but the Royal Government shortly after over-ruled the resolution of the local power, and caused the Hospital to be closed; not, however, before certain good results were obtained—out of one hundred and twenty-one patients treated, ninety-six were cured, twenty-two much improved, and three were dismissed uncured, and no deaths.

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL, ST. PETERSBURG.

Physician—Dr. Stender.

The Minister of the Interior (in 1848) placed one-half of a female Hospital under the care of Dr. Stender, Homœopathic Physician, in order that, side by side with Allopathy, the merits of Homœopathy might be made to appear. The experiment continues to demonstrate the utility of the last named system.

HOMŒOPATHIC CLINIQUE, LEIPZIG.

Was established by the Central Society of Homœopathists in the year 1842. Is supported by a yearly contribution from the State. About 2000 patients are annually relieved. The Physicians are Drs. Müller, Nayer, and Kleinert.

HOMŒOPATHIC WARDS IN THE HOSPITAL, BEAUJON.

Dr. Tessier has this year transferred his operations to the Hospital of Beaujon, where he has upwards of one hundred beds. No results of the treatment has yet been published.

---

CALCUTTA NATIVE HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL.

Physician—Dr. Tonnerre.

This Hospital was opened on the 17th March, 1852; it contains ten beds. The total number of in-door cases treated since the opening has been eighty-five; seventy-two of which have been dismissed cured, and seven remain under treatment. A Dispensary is connected with the Hospital, where advice and medicine have been afforded during the same period to 1291 patients; of which 996 have been dismissed cured, and 214 cases have been lost sight of.

CONTINENTAL SOCIETIES AND INSTITUTIONS.

On the Continent, as in Great Britain and America, there exists many Associations for the defence and protection of Homœopathy, and for general professional improvement and intercourse. Among the most useful of Foreign Societies, may be named the following:—
“THE GALRICAN HOMŒOPATHIC SOCIETY,” which holds an annual Congress in some of the French cities; “THE CENTRAL SOCIETY OF GERMAN HOMŒOPATHISTS,” which was founded by Hahnemann, in 1829; “THE AUSTRIAN PROVING SOCIETY;” “THE HUNGARIAN HOMŒOPATHIC SOCIETY;” “THE HOMŒOPATHIC SOCIETY OF VIENNA;” and “THE HOMŒOPATHIC SOCIETY OF WESTERN GERMANY.”

BRITISH OBITUARY.

DR. CURIE.

PAUL FRANCIS CURIE was born in Grand Charmont, France, in 1799; studied under the Professors of the Faculty of Medicine, at Paris; served as Supernumerary and Assistant Surgeon in the Army; and graduated as M.D. at Paris, in 1824. In 1832 he became a convert to Homœopathy; in 1833, he settled in Paris; and, in conjunction with Dr. Simon, performed a series of Homœopathic Experiments in one of the large hospitals of that capital. In 1835, Dr. Curie was induced, at the earnest solicitation of an eminent merchant, to exchange Paris for London. In 1837, the first British Homœopathic Dispensary was opened, at Finsbury Circus; at this dispensary Dr. Curie was daily to be found, and from him several of the members of the British Homœopathic medical profession, received the rudiments of their Homœopathic knowledge. In 1845, the English Homœopathic Association was formed, Dr. Curie being one of its principal medical supporters; in the same year Dr. Curie graduated at King's College, Aberdeen; in the same year the well known inquest on the death of Mr. Cordwell occurred, the circumstances of which were published in a pamphlet by Dr. Curie, where he so warmly defended his peculiar dietetic notions, as almost to identify them with Homœopathy; the views set forth in this pamphlet were emphatically dissented from by a large number of the most influential Homœopaths. In 1850, the late Hahnemann Hospital was opened, and Dr. Curie was elected one of the Physicians, and Clinical Lecturer. It was from one of his patients in this hospital, that he caught the disease of which he died, on the 5th October, 1853, aged 54.

Years must pass, and another generation of Practitioners rise, before an impartial history of the influence of Dr. Curie's career on the progress of Homœopathy can be written. Dr. Curie laboured long, hard, and well, in the cause of Homœopathy; and amongst the list of its early promulgators in England, the name of Curie will not be forgotten.

DR. SPILLAN

Was a Fellow of the College of Physicians, Dublin, and was better known as an author and editor, than as a successful practitioner. He was author of "Libamenta Præcos Medicæ;" of a "Homœopathic Pharmacopœia," and of a Manual of Therapeutics; he was also translator of "Andral's Clinical Medicine," and many other useful and important works. Dr. Spillan died at London, on the 2nd July, 1854.

H. S. SEARLE, Esq.,

Became a Member of the College of Surgeons, London, in 1818, and Honorary Fellow of the same College, in 1844. Mr. Searle was Surgeon to the London Homœopathic Hospital, and was author of a number of Essays on the "Absorbents"—"Affections of the Stomach and Brain"—"Atmospheric Pressure," &c., &c.

AMERICAN OBITUARY.

DR. J. G. LOOMIS,

Professor of Obstetrics, and the Diseases of Women and Children, in the Homœopathic Medical College of Pennsylvania; died of Phthisis, in the city of Syracuse, on the 25th October, 1853. Though only aged 42 at the period of his death, Dr. Loomis enjoyed an extensive reputation as a practitioner, and was highly esteemed as a teacher.

DR. E. COOLEY

Died in the City of Philadelphia, 24th March, 1853, aged 82.

CONTINENTAL OBITUARY.

DR. WAHLE

Practiced originally at Leipzig, but was driven thence by certain paltry acts of persecution, on the part of his Allopathic colleagues of that town; in 1843, Dr. Wahle settled in Rome, and after experiencing great difficulties from the Pontifical authorities in obtaining permission to practice, he ultimately obtained a large practice; he was an excellent practitioner, a man of genial humour, and much liked by his patients. Dr. Wahle enriched the Materia Medica, by excellent provings of Kreosote, Prunus Spinosa, and Cimex lectularius. He died at Rome, on the 9th of April, 1853, aged 55.

DR. PESCHIER,

Was born at Geneva, in 1782; graduated at Paris, in 1809. In 1822, he published an Essay on the Treatment of Pneumonia and Pleurisy, by large doses of Tartar Emetic which gained him considerable reputation. In 1832, his attention was directed to Homœopathy, and he began its study with diligence, visiting Hahnemann the same year. In 1833, he commenced the publication of the "Bibliothèque Homœopathique de Genève," the first Homœopathic periodical published in the French language. His attainments in literature, philosophy, botany, astronomy, mathematics, and theology, were considerable. He spoke most of the languages of Europe; and at the age of sixty began the study of Hebrew, that he might be able to study the Bible in the original. He died on the 31st May, 1853.

DR. F. HARTMANN,

Another of Hahnemann's own disciples, has been removed by death. Soon the whole of his early converts will have followed him from the distractions of this life, to the rest and peace of another. Dr. Hartmann was born at Debsch, in 1796. Early after finishing his medical studies, he became convinced of the truth of Homeopathy, and enjoyed the advantage of Hahnemann's personal instructions. For some time he had a good practice in Leipzig; but for the last eight years he was confined to his room by a severe and painful disease, though he still continued his literary labours, for the support of his family. He died on the 10th October, 1853, aged 57. Dr. Hartmann was one of the founders of the "Allgemeine Homöopathische Zeitung;" and continued one of its editors until his death. He was the author of "Therapeutics of Acute and Chronic Diseases;" "Diseases of Children;" many papers in his own journal, and a work on Homœopathic Dietetics. He translated "Carpari's Dispensatory," into Latin.

DR. BAMBERG, BERLIN,

Born at Meseritz, in the Grand Duchy of Posen, on the 22nd February, 1801; graduated at the University of Berlin, on the 20th December, 1826; and died on the 25th November, 1853, aged 52. At the period of his death, Dr. Bamberg was engaged with an elaborate "History of Medicine, from the remotest times to the present day."

DR. MELICHER, BERLIN,

For many years enjoyed a high reputation and large practice in Berlin. He suffered great pain during his illness; and frequently wished for death to relieve him from his torture. He died on the 16th December, 1858; the immediate cause was paralysis of the lungs.

DR. MARENZELLER, VIENNA,

This veteran Homœopathist, by the influence of his name, was the chief instrument of spreading Homœopathy in the Austrian dominions; he was the friend and contemporary of Hahnemann; and was employed, by order of the Emperor, in performing a series of experiments with Homœopathy in the Military Hospital at Vienna; these experiments are but imperfectly known in England,—a circumstance much to be regretted, as they form a marked contrast to the so-called experiments of Andral. Dr. Marenzeller lived long to enjoy his honours; he died on the 6th January, 1854, aged 90.

DR. ROMANI, OF NAPLES,

Was born at Vasto, in 1785. He studied medicine, and took his degree, at Naples; and rapidly acquired so great a reputation, that the Queen appointed him her Physician-in-Ordinary. During the invasion of the Neapolitan dominions by the Austrians, in 1821, Dr. Romani was suffering from a very painful disease; the fame of Dr. Necker, who was attached to the Austrian army, attracted his attention, and having put himself under his care, was rapidly cured. This led him to study Homœopathy; and he practised with great success in Naples. He was induced to visit England by the late Earl of Shrewsbury, in 1827; and established a regular Homœopathic Dispensary, at Alton Towers. The climate of England did not agree with him; and after a short residence in this country, he returned to Naples. He published several original works on Homœopathy; and translated Hahnemann's Materia Medica, into Italian. He died deeply lamented by a large circle of patients and friends.

DR. LICHTENFELS, OF VIENNA.

One of the oldest and most popular physicians of that town.

DR. ALTMÜLLER, OF CASSEL.

An old and esteemed Homœopathist.

DR. HARTUNG, OF MILAN,

Well known by his cure of the supposed malignant eye disease of Field-Marshal Count Radetzki, Commander-in-Chief of the Austrian Army in Italy.

DR. N. A. MÖRTH, OF LINKÖPEN.

One of the few Homœopathic Physicians in Sweden.

DR. BELLUOMINI.

This distinguished advocate of Homœopathy, who was one of the earliest pioneers of the system in England, died lately at Turin.

Homœopathic Pharmacy, Parade, NORTHAMPTON.

Observations on the importance and value, as a Medical Agent, of

STRINGFELLOW'S

PATENT ELECTRO-GALVANIC

POCKET BATTERY.

---

It affords the easiest, most efficient, and complete method ever discovered of applying, for curative purposes, a mild continuous stream of electricity. This invention obviates all objections and difficulties; it is portable, easy in its application, and certain in its action.

GALVANISM, applied medically, should never produce much pain. The current requires an abundance as to quantity, and to be sufficiently intense so as to traverse the affected parts, and gently stimulate the action of the nerves and muscles when contracted by any severe attack.

ELECTRICITY is also an important agent in stimulating the organs of secretion; it quickens the capillary circulation of the skin, and induces diaphoresis or perspiration—it is therefore very applicable in severe attacks from cold; and in diseases of the liver Galvanism acts as if by magic, increasing its action, and causing it to convey pure and healthy bile, which thus tends to facilitate digestion, and restore health.

In ASTHMA, SHORTNESS OF BREATH, and CONSUMPTION, this remedial agent always affords relief, and frequently cures when every other means have proved abortive; and in cases of Inflammation and acute Neuralgic Pains, it acts as a charm. It needs only a trial, and its value will then, and then only, be duly appreciated, by means of "Mr. Gardiner Hill, with a promptitude, decision, and boldness, which ought to be had in perpetual remembrance, set the great example of living without restraints altogether, acted upon this large and wise principle, and succeeded."—Dr. Conolly's Lecture, Royal Institution, April 23, 1853.

"In advocating the claims of Dr. Conolly, I have never overlooked those of Mr. Hill, as the originator of the non-restraint system in our asylums. In proof that Dr. Conolly himself does justice to Mr. Hill's merits, Dr. Conolly suggested to me, long ago, whether some portion of his subscription might not appropriately be devoted to the recognition of Mr. Hill's claims."—Letter from Sir John Forbes, M.D., Physician in Ordinary to Her Majesty's Household, Jan. 26, 1851.

"The Governors never expressed a wish for the extinction of restraint; they never expected it; not one of them deemed it possible. It was Mr. Hill who had the courage to broach the original and invaluable idea, that the use of instruments might be wholly dispensed with."—Sir Ed. F. Bromhead, Bart., Vice-President of the Lincoln Asylum.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN COD LIVER OIL,

Prepared for Medicinal Use in the Loffoden Isles, Norway,

AND PUT TO THE TEST OF CHEMICAL ANALYSIS.

PRESCRIBED BY EMINENT MEDICAL MEN,

As the most effectual Remedy for Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Gout, Rheumatism, some Diseases of the Skin, Rickets, Infantile Wasting, General Debility, and all Scrofulous Affections.

PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

The great difficulty of obtaining genuine and good Cod Liver Oil, has long prevented a just appreciation of its acknowledged remedial virtues, and precluded many suffering invalids from realising the beneficial effects of this truly valuable medicine.

Dr. De Jongh's Light Brown Cod Liver Oil is of the best kind and finest quality, being extracted from the liver of the Dorso—Gadus Callarias, a species of Cod-fish, caught at the Great Fishery of the Loffoden Isles—by a process yielding a much larger proportion of Iodine, phosphate of lime, volatile acid, the elements of the bile, and other essential principles, than the Pale Oils manufactured in England and Newfoundland, which by their mode of preparation, are deprived in a great measure of their active elements.

The well-merited celebrity of Dr. De Jongh's Oil, is attested by its extensive use in France, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Italy, by numerous spontaneous testimonials from eminent members of the faculty and scientific chemists of European reputation, and since its recent introduction into this country, by the marked confidence as well as great success with which it has been prescribed by medical practitioners.

In many instances where other kinds of Cod Liver Oil has been taken with little or no benefit, it has produced almost immediate relief, arrested disease, and restored health.

Testimonial from the late JONATHAN PEREIRA, M.D., F.R.S.E., F.L.S., Professor at the University of London. Author of the "Elements of Materia Medica and Therapeutics," &c., &c.

"My dear Sir.—I was very glad to find from you when I had the pleasure of seeing you in London, that you were interested commercially in Cod Liver Oil. It was fitting that the author of the best analysis and investigations into the properties of this Oil should himself be the purveyor of this important medicine.

"I feel, however, some diffidence in venturing to fulfil your request by giving you my opinion of the quality of the Oil of which you gave me a sample; because I know that no one can be better, and few so well acquainted with the physical and chemical properties of this medicine as yourself, whom I regard as the highest authority on the subject.

"I can, however, have no hesitation about the propriety of responding to your application. The Oil which you gave me was of the very finest quality, whether considered with reference to its colour, flavour, or chemical properties; and I am satisfied that, for medicinal purposes, no finer oil can be procured.

"With my best wishes for your success, believe me, my dear Sir, to be very faithfully yours,

To Dr. de Jongh.

(Signed)

JONATHAN PEREIRA.

Finsbury-square, London, April 16, 1851."
